

THE FRANKLYS

Drawn to the raw and engaging indie rock scene emerging from the UK, Swedish Jen Ahlkvist and Fanny Broberg packed up themselves and their guitars to come to London intent on carving out a new vital sound. After crossing paths with bassist Zoe Biggs and drummer Lexi Clark, The Franklys were formed with a determination for creating energetic and powerful garage rock.

Wasting no time, the band threw themselves into relentless touring, extending their reach across the UK, Europe and America. After performances at Isle of Wight and Download festivals, they completed the circuit of O2 venues in the UK opening up for Airbourne. The Franklys went on to feature in an Apple Music advert, exclusively aired during The Brit Awards 2017, and released their debut album 'Are You Listening?' later that same year. The release of their single 'Castaway' from the album was described as 'the best thing they've done to date' by Steve Lamacq of BBC 6 Music.

The band have built a reputation in London and beyond as a 'must see' live band, combining dark and heavy riffs with frenetic and dynamic on stage performances. 2018 saw The Franklys complete four European tours alongside various UK dates, and in 2019 they published their new EP „Framed“.

REVIEWS

"The Franklys have an instant magnetic presence – it's all in from that moment, we're all in, fully engaged... Flying high on their ferocious energy, the gig ends with enthusiastic applause and all of us chanting for more. The Franklys prove they're not to be missed with a live show that gets all of our heart beats pumping with DIY love... We'll sure be back when they are." - Joyzine, live review

"Fun filled garage rock with a pop twist, The Franklys have a feminine edge which sets them apart from their more laddish contemporaries" - Clash

"From the opening track 'Castaway' on The Frankly's debut album 'Are You Listening' you are instantly captured by the all-girl band. The sound is pure garage and has a great pop feel to it. The 4 members, half Swedish half British, have a hint of The Runaways and certainly provide a raw edge that is present throughout the album... It is an album I haven't stopped listening to since I first turned it on and I'll certainly be trying to catch them on their UK tour this month! 'Are You Listening?' is an unequivocal triumph." - Rockloadmag.com

"The Franklys come on with a smattering of Hives gusto" - NME
